President's Ponderings

I'm excited there seemed to be enough interest by guild members in attendance at the January meeting to try a few new programs this year. But who doesn't like having a chance to win a prize in a raffle! The UFO Challenge and the Volunteer Recognition Raffle are both off and running based on your feedback. I wanted to take a minute to explain how the board proposes to track entries for each of these new raffles.

UFO Challenge - Rather than messing with physical raffle tickets throughout the year, the board will track entries via the Show & Tell forms. When members complete their Show & Tell forms, Secretary, Mary Terrell collects the forms at each guild meeting and records the names, the number of UFOs presented, which then gets documented in the meeting minutes. Members will have the opportunity to cross-check and verify their raffle entries each month.

Volunteer Recognition Raffle - We accomplish most CCQG activities through our member volunteers. Tracking for this raffle will come from several different sources. We have your name for a raffle entry when you:

- Make donations and sign-in on the Charity Basket sheet
- Participate and sign-in at Happy Scrappers charity sewing session(s)
- Volunteer to sell raffle tickets for our charity quilt.
- Volunteer at other guild events such as Quilt Conference & Quiltfest

Each of these has a chairperson/coordinator who will provide the names and number of raffle entries each month for tabulation. Members will be able to verify their qualifying entries for the prior month with a review of the guild meeting minutes each month. We are planning multiple drawings and multiple prizes for the Volunteer Recognition Raffle.

If at any time you identify a discrepancy on either of these raffle counts, contact me or anyone on the board and we will work to get it resolved. I will finish by asking you to think about this question: Can a member win more than ONE prize in a raffle? Expect an agenda item at the February meeting to give me your comments.

Thank you!
Bonnie Walshe

Monthly News

For many of us, every New Year's resolution includes a goal to de-clutter our fabric stash and finish our many projects. How many UFO blocks and Block-of-the-Month (BOM) kits are in your plastic bins? Isn't it time to see them finished?

CCQG can help disperse and redistribute your unwanted quilt blocks, unused fabrics, mismatched notions, unfinished projects, or any other items. Bring your items to our guild meeting and deposit them into our charity collection basket. Your contributions are a resource for our scrappy bees' and individual members' efforts in finishing quilts, making blankets, and various charity projects for our community.

What can you do with ALL those Scraps? Many crafters organize their scraps and make beautiful scrappy quilts or repurpose them as embellishments. OR If you have a scrappy library, sew those scraps into squares to make crazy quilts or donate them.

Besides donating fabrics, use the charity basket as a place to collect items for our sales booth during Quiltfest. We can inventory and price the items before we are down to the wire! AND don't forget to add your name to the donation sheet next to the basket so we know who to thank!
