

Cibolo Creek Quilters Guild

What is a quilting bee?

If you sew or quilt, then you have probably heard the term, "quilting bee." A quilting bee is a get-together of small groups of people to sew on their individual projects or to work on larger group projects.

Our Quilting Bees

We currently have four bees in our guild that meet monthly, and each has a slightly different focus. It's a great way to get to know people in a smaller less structured environment and has opportunities to share and pickup new tips/tricks from other quilters.

If you can't make a daytime bee during the week or you have a sewing passion for something not specifically mentioned below, you are encouraged to consider starting a new bee! You might be surprised to find there are others with the same interest and/or in the same situation who would like to join a bee.
